A. L. LAWSHE

DEATH COMES TO HIM AFTER A BRAVE FIGHT FOR LIFE

Abraham L. Lawshe died yesterday at 2:30 o'clock p. m. at his home in Arcadia, after a brave fight for life. About two months ago, after a hard day's work on the grounds surrounding his fine new residence recently completed, he collapsed. He was taken to a Los Angeles hospital, where he was found to be suffering from anemia. Transfusion of blood from the arteries of his son to his own was successfully tried and he seemed to rally, but it was not for long, and the anxious wife, brother, sons and daughters began a week ago to prepare themselves for the end they could see was so swiftly approaching.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow. There will be a brief service in the Arcadia home for the family, and the remains will then be brought to the Central Christian church, where Rev. C. A. Cole will officiate. Burial will be in Hollywood cemetery.

Abraham Lincoln Lawshe was born at Somerset, Ind., October 6, 1860. He attended the common and high schools of Somerset and at an early age was granted a license to teach in the common schools of his county. He abandoned the idea of teaching school and chose as his profession that of a journalist.

After publishing a small paper in Somerset for a short period he moved to Wabash, Ind., his county seat, and secured employment upon the weekly paper published there. Realizing the importance of a thorough knowledge of the mechanical processes of printing, he left Wabash and secured employment in Indianapolis, in one of the largest plants of that city, and returned to Wabash several years later as manager of the Wabash Courier. In Wabash he met and married Anna Sweetser on the 18th day of October, 1882; in 1883 purchased and assumed the management of the Xenia (now Converse) Indiana, Journal. He continued with this work until the year 1897, holding various positions of trust during the period including that of postmaster during the years 1889 to 1893. He was elected a delegate to the Republican National Convention held in St. Louis in the year 1896 from the Eleventh Congressional District of Indiana.

In the year 1897 he was appointed

REPUBLICAN CLUB

HARDING AND COOLIDGE REPUBLICAN CLUB OF SIXTY-FIRST DISTRICT ORGANIZED

A meeting was held last evening in the High School auditorium to organize a Republican club. Mrs. Ella F. Meeker was chosen as temporary chairman, and the first business in order was the election of permanent officers. W. E. Evans was the choice for chairman, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward for secretary and F. H. Vesper for treasurer.

Joseph Crall of Los Angeles, chairman of the County Central Committee, was present and made a very pointed address, predicting an overwhelming Republican victory this fall, but urging constant work to keep up the enthusiasm and to get out a full vote. The name chosen for the organization after considerable discussion, was the "Harding and Coolidge Republican Club of the Sixty-first Assembly District." On motion the chair appointed twelve vice presidents from the different voting districts and an executive board of fifteen members. Short talks were made by Mr. and Mrs. John Hyde Braly, John Robert White, Mrs. White, Charles H. Toll, Charles L. Chandler, Robert Person, William L. Baker, Mrs. Ella F. Meeker, Judge F. H. Lowe and J. C. Sherer.

It was planned to hold meetings once a week, on Tuesday evenings if possible, for which speakers of local, state and national fame should be secured, as they were available. Headquarters will be established in some prominent location soon.

HOWE'S COTTON CROP

F. S. CARD AND WIFE ACCOMPANY PROF. HOWE TO NEW POST; IN COTTON FIELDS

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Card, who are living at 450 Burchett street, while their new home at 319 Patterson avenue is being completed, took an early morning drive Monday, accompanying their next door neighbor, Prof. Harry Howe, down to Coachella, to begin his work there as principal of the High School. While there Mr. and Mrs. Card viewed with delight the far-stretching fields of date palms with cotton between the rows. Mr. Card took several kodak views of the cotton fields and in one of these appears Prof. Howe's hat, held aloft in the midst of the cotton plants, which were so tall that only the hat, held on his up-stretched arm, could be seen.

The Cards arrived at home this morning, bringing with them a cotton plant pulled up from Prof. Howe's ranch which is fairly loaded with bolls, also a small box of ripe cotton. Picking has just begun, but will not be in full swing for two or three weeks yet. The yield is going to be immense all over the valley.

MINSTREL SHOW

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB BENEFIT PROMISES TO BE A SCREAM

The big minstrel show and vaudeville to be given for the benefit of the club house fund Thursday evening of next week, promises to be all that former entertainments given by these ladies would lead one to expect. The affair is being directed by Charles Peckham, who has some splendid talent to work with. There will be everything included in an old-fashioned minstrel show in addition to fine vaudeville numbers.

Among the pleasing features will be the costume revue of nations being staged by Mrs. Jesse Joseph and presented by Mrs. Gladys Gibbs Sherman, Mrs. Theodore Peirce, Miss Esther Ralston, Miss Margot Buxton, Mrs. Calvin Whiting and Mrs. Joseph.

The Elks quartet will appear in several numbers. Miss Margot Buxton of Chicago, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turck, and Miss Lois Naudain, Glendale's little favorite, will give classical dances.

Mrs. Charles M. Turck and Miss Mildred McKee are preparing a humorous skit typical of Ireland.

Miss Addie Schaffer, a most clever vocalist, will appear in a repertoire of songs as a Southern lady of long ago.

Mrs. Opal Greenwalt, who is in charge of the tickets, announces that they are going fast and says the financial success of the affair is already assured.

PRESIDENT DESCHANEL WILL RESIGN

MEETING OF CABINET EXPECTED TO BE CALLED SOON TO CONSIDER SUCCESSOR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Sept. 15.—President Deschanel will resign this week, the foreign office admitted today. Deschanel is suffering from neurasthenia, it was said, and his mental condition is worse than his physical.

A meeting of the cabinet was expected to be called immediately upon the return of Premier Millerand from Switzerland to consider Deschanel's successor.

The cabinet, it was believed, would be summoned Friday. An extraordinary session of the senate and chamber of deputies to receive Deschanel's resignation and name his successor was expected. Among those mentioned for the presidency are Gen. Castelnau, Senator Leon Bourgeois, Senator Charles Jounart, and President Peret of the chamber. Friends of Marshal Foch were today urging that he become a candidate for the presidency.

CRISIS IN ITALY

INDUSTRIAL SITUATION APPARENTLY BECOMING VERY SERIOUS; RADICALS DEMAND REVOLUTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, Sept. 15.—Conflicting elements, each seeking to employ the economic crisis in Italy to attain its own ends, have succeeded in so involving the situation that it has become a maze of industrial, social and political cross currents.

Despite growing optimism in official circles, the industrial situation is apparently becoming graver, owing to the inability of anyone to coalesce these elements in attaining a common end. The extreme radicals are demanding that a revolution take place with setting up of a Soviet government.

Manufacturers were blocking any attempt at a settlement that would imply a moral victory for their employees, while the great majority of workmen were unwilling to accept even profit-sharing plans from their employers and are daily increasing their demands.

THREE MURDERED IN KANSAS

BODIES OF THREE YOUNG MEN FOUND ON R. R. TRACKS; ONE BELIEVED RESIDENT OF LOS ANGELES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ARCOLA, Kan., Sept. 15.—The bodies of three young men, one believed to be Edward Carwile of Los Angeles, were found murdered on the Union Pacific railroad tracks near here today. Officers said the men had been slain and their bodies placed on the tracks to hide the murder.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Elizabeth G. Carwile was prostrated today after receipt of the news that her son, Edward, had been slain at Arcola, Kansas. Young Carwile was employed as an advance agent for a Chautauqua company after his discharge from the army, it was said here.

FACTIONAL FIGHT AT CHICAGO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The factional fight between supporters of Governor Lowden and Mayor Thompson was so bitter in today's primaries that private watchers have been assigned to nearly all the voting booths here.

Neither Lowden or Thompson is a candidate, but each faction has entered a complete state ticket.

Wm. B. McKinley heads the Lowden ticket as candidate for United States senator, and Frank Smith heads the Thompson slate for senator.

MAC SWINEY IN DELIRIUM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney was in a raving delirium most of the night, according to a statement of his sister, Annie. Imagining that he was leading a Sinn Fein army, the Lord Mayor talked wildly and issued commands. Today, realizing that he might reveal Sinn Fein secrets during his delirium, MacSwiney asked members of his family to gag him if the delirium reoccurs.

Although by means of a stethoscope was the only way of determining that his heart was still beating, yesterday MacSwiney talked with his wife about the plans for his funeral. He wanted only a simple Catholic funeral, although the Sinn Fein is planning the greatest demonstration in Ireland's history.

JAPANESE RACIAL EQUALITY PROBLEM

PARIS, Sept. 15.—The question of Japanese racial equality, over which the Versailles peace conference nearly split, promises to become the most important problem facing the League of Nations meeting in November. Japan is planning to send a large delegation to demand settlement of the question.

MUST MAKE GOOD

GLENDALE PREPARES TO MAKE FAVORABLE IMPRESSION ON TRACTOR SHOW VISITORS

The people of Glendale are making preparations to entertain the visitors who attend the National Tractor Show at Verdugo Woodlands next week. This occasion is one in which Glendale is greatly interested, not in the way of advertising the excellencies of tractor and farm machinery, but in giving favorable publicity to our city.

The manufacturers have the business sense to know that it is a good plan to exhibit their products to the people that they may learn just what are the excellent features of modern machinery. Now, for the same reason, it is good business for the citizens of Glendale to present to the visitors one of the most beautiful and desirable cities to be found in Southern California. The Tractor Association is looking after its interests in the way of getting value received for all the efforts it puts forth in putting on this show, and because they do, that does not interfere with Glendale's taking advantage of the opportunity of getting much favorable publicity.

At a committee meeting held in the City Hall last evening, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, announced that her committee of ladies have engaged Mrs. Douglas Balthis as secretary of the committee, and it will be her duty to secure a listing by telephone and otherwise of the homekeepers in Glendale who are willing to take one or more lodgers during the week of the Tractor Show. Headquarters are now established at the City Hall, with Mrs. Balthis in charge, and next week it is the purpose of this committee to establish headquarters on Brand Boulevard or Broadway near the Pacific Electric station.

At last evening's meeting L. T. Rowley and Lee Thomas reported that the Ways and Means Committee was ready to turn over $500 to the Auto Parking Committee, and the Entertainment Committee was to be allowed sufficient money to provide evening band concerts on the streets

Ivanhoe Road Paving

All the cuts and fills in the road over the hills from the end of Ivanhoe avenue out past Silver Lake to Ivanhoe bridge have been completed and the fills and grading on this side of the bridge to the south limits of Glendale are practically completed and just as soon as the contractors can get materials the paving will be commenced. It had been hoped by them to have the work done by the first of the year, but the rock could not be gotten and is still scarce, for the foundation. When completed this will be almost a direct line from the city of Glendale to the Third street tunnel and will be quite a scenic drive, also.

CITY LIBRARY NEWS

STORY HOUR CHANGED; NEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES ADDED

Mrs. J. C. Danford, head of the library staff, wishes to announce that she has a new plan for the inspection of the new books. Instead of having them all out at one time for inspection they will be laid out over the week-end, in installments, in both departments. Book reviews will be conducted on the same plan at both the branch and the main library, every two weeks Fridays at the branch and Mondays at the main library.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, is the story hour period for the Juvenile department, now, instead of Tuesdays and Fridays as during the summer vacations, at which time the children will be allowed to take out the new books. Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the adult book review will be conducted, and during this period those present will have the privilege of taking out new books. Mrs. Danford has also been replacing some of the popular books of fiction. The magazine "Success," edited by Orison Sweet Marden, has been added to the collection of magazines. Ibanez's new novel, "Woman Triumphant," is a popular book of fiction which has been added to the large collection. Ibanez is the Spanish writer who wrote "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." There will be a staff class, conducted as usual, for literary training and to create a harmonious feeling among the members.

T. A. C. RECEPTION

OUTGOING AND INCOMING PRESIDENTS OF TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB HONORED

A reception given by the Tuesday Afternoon Club in honor of Mrs. E. H. Willisford and Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, outgoing and incoming presidents respectively, which afforded an opportunity for the older members to meet and greet the new members of the organization, was held on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. W. Kinney, 123 West Elk avenue. The house was beautifully decorated with dahlias of marvellous coloring and a Hawaiian orchestra in a palm-covered inclosure, furnished music throughout the afternoon.

A beautiful club pin was presented to Mrs. Willisford on behalf of the executive board, which was handed to her in a bouquet by little Jano Leighton. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, vice president of the State Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. Willisford made a most gracious acceptance speech and was followed by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, who also spoke most charmingly. The keynote both women sounded was the power of co-operation. Mrs. Hutchinson was presented with a bouquet. Adjournment was then taken to the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served, those in charge of this portion of the proceedings being Mrs. C. H. Temple, Mrs. A. M. Hunt, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. Mabel Rudy and Mrs. Walter Stamps. Mrs. A. M. Draper sang delightfully two beautiful selections accompanied on the piano by Mrs. L. N. Hagood.

More than 100 persons were present.

Mrs. Ida Quinn Passes

Mrs. Ida Frances Quinn, aged sixty-four, and a native of New York state, died in Los Angeles Monday, of heart trouble. She had recently come out here from New York to live with her children, one of whom is Mrs. John S. Lawyer of 1263 Marioposa. The funeral is being held this afternoon in the L. G. Scovern Company parlors. Interment will be in Forest Lawn.

Death of C. W. Straight

Charles W. Straight of 319 Ethel street, died in Los Angeles Monday, aged forty-seven years. He was a native of West Virginia. His wife and three daughters survive him. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock p. m., in The Little Church of the Flowers, the L. G. Scovern Company in charge. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Deceased was an employee of the P. E. Railway Company for a number of years.

SEWER JOKER

J. B. TREADWELL DISCUSSES SEWER SYSTEM PROBLEM FOR GLENDALE

The article by Engineer Olmsted published August 13, 1920, should not appeal to the people of Glendale, particularly to property owners. Mr. Olmsted says that the aggregate cost of the entire plant would probably be between $400,000 and $500,000. (Now here comes the joker.) Mr. Olmsted says this cost would not, however, include the installation of laterals and connections for house service. The laterals would be taken care of by the assessment plan, the cost to be so much per foot of frontage. The fact is that these laterals mean sewers in the streets of Glendale and all land fronting on said sewers or laterals would be assessed for same. You can judge how much per foot that would cost.

Mr. Olmsted proposed to put in a septic system by installing tank or tanks and at the lowest level in the city with pumping plants connected by pipe lines to Scholl Canyon, the plan specifying that the liquid would be pumped to the canyon and the solids would be transported to that place by the means of auto trucks provided for the purpose. This is all that you get for $400,000 to $500,000, and no more. Why did not Mr. Olmsted give an estimate of the cost of sewerage the city that he calls laterals.

Our only solution is to go into Los Angeles and connect with their sewers, and save the $400,000 to $500,000.

VINEYARD ACROSS S. P. TRACKS FROM GLENDALE IN ENORMOUS YIELD

The forty-five-acre vineyard of vine grapes west of the S. P. tracks and opposite the section included between Riverdale Drive and Colorado is now the scene of busy activity. The yield is unusually large and the gathering is thus made easier. Expert Mexican pickers are employed in the main and are paid by the ton. Homer Roberts of West Park avenue went over Monday to try out as a picker, just as an experiment, and though it was his first attempt and here is a decided knack in severing the large bunches with one clean stroke of the sharp knife, he picked twenty-seven boxes in a day and was paid beginners' wages of 10 cents a box. So it can be seen that the regular pickers must make good wages. The grapes are being pressed in the old winery on the edge of the bluff opposite the end of Vine street, for grape juice, and far more money is being made by the owners of the vineyard and winery than in the balmy days of wine making. The wine grape growers of California will have been paid $140,000,000 for their crop by the end of the season, it is estimated, far more than the sum received for table grapes which did not advance much in price, not more than double, while the wine grapes brought ten-fold the price they did before prohibition went into effect.

In the big vineyard just east of Grand View avenue between Sixth street and San Fernando Road, picking is in progress, also, and the owners are paid $120 a ton at the roadside.

Lincoln as a Speller

On one occasion the President gave me what he was pleased to call an account of his "progress in spelling." The incident reveals the remarkable simplicity of Mr. Lincoln, and the open-heartedness of the man. It shows, moreover, his freedom of intercourse with a private citizen, divested of that stateliness of which some of his predecessors who have held his high office might have found it more difficult to relieve themselves.

Having some business at the War Department, and knowing that my success depended on the President's favor, and not being personally acquainted with the Secretary of War (Edwin M. Stanton and my father were not relatives), I called on the President for his aid. At this interview no visitor was present but myself. After stating my case and finding the President favorably disposed, I asked him if he would speak to the Secretary in my behalf. "Certainly I will," said he. Pausing a moment, he added: "Or, what is better I will write him a note. Sit down and I will write it now."

He went to his desk and began writing, and in a few moments turned to me, looking up over his spectacles, and, without my having the least premonition of what was coming, said: "Ob-stacle—is that the way you spell obstacle?"

I was so disconcerted at this sudden and unexpected question that for the instant I was silent. Noticing my confusion, he laid down his pen and turned his revolving chair so as to face me, when, having recovered myself, I said, "I believe that is right, Mr. President."

He then said: "When I write an official letter, I want to be sure it is correct, and I find I am sometimes puzzled to know how to spell the most common word."

On my stating that this was not an unusual experience with many persons, he said: "I found about twenty years ago that I had been spelling one word wrong all my life up to that time."

"What word is that, Mr. President?" I inquired.

"It is 'very,'" he said. "I used always to spell it with two r's—v-e-r-r-y. And then there was another word which I found I had been spelling wrong until I came here to the White House."

On my inquiry for the word, he said: "It is 'opportunity.' I had always spelled it op-per-tunity."

In relating each of these instances of his "progress in spelling," as he called it, the President laughed heartily, spoke of the importance of giving attention to orthography, and then finished his letter to the Secretary of War, and handed it to me with a warm expression of hope that my mission might be successful. It was—Robert Brewster Stanton in Scribner's.

After all, it pays to read. "What impressed you most at the Louvre?" asked one of their friends. "Oh," replied the husband, "a picture which represented Adam and Eve, with the apple and the serpent." And his wife added, "Yes, we found that specially interesting because, you see, we knew the anecdote."—Exchange.

"Hey, Bill, 'ow many chops did we leave in the ice-box last night fer breakfast?" "Two, er course." "Well the blasted dorg has got away with yours."—Sydney Bulletin.

The Good Old Days

Today it is a poor egg that doesn't bring a nickel, and butter is worth 70 cents the pound. The old-timer looks back over the years. He sighs for the good old times. Eggs were 10 cents a dozen and butter 20 cents a pound.

But does he really want "the good old times?" Let's see.

In those days people had parlors and didn't use 'em. Now they have living-rooms and wear 'em almost out.

They lighted their homes with kerosene "hanging" lamps.

Fellows took their girls out "buggy-riding" and knew nothing about the joy of a fleet motor-car.

Men were paid a dollar a day on the section, and the other day laborer, just a little above him, was paid ten dollars a week.

When a person had weak lungs they began to select a nice green spot in the "marble orchard" for him, and if your appendix got tangled up, they said you had inflammation of the bowels and they buried you deep.

And women wore bustles and long gummy skirts.

Houses were heated by stoves of one kind or another. And bathtubs and other toilet facilities there were none.

Yes, those were not the good old days. Let 'em keep their 10-cent eggs and their 20-cent butter. Living in 1920 is worth more than it costs, even if it costs more than it did.—Haverhill Gazette.

Jay Walkers

Somebody in Missouri has taken a little time from the demands of national and state politics to propose a plan for dealing with the individual who has come to be known as a "jay walker"—the person who "cuts the corners" in crossing streets.

The state legislature will be asked to pass a bill that will provide a penalty for persons who disregard the rules of safety as applied to traffic on busy streets, thereby fretting the souls of automobilists who are in a hurry to get nowhere in particular.

There is a possibility that the legislature of Missouri will recognize that drivers have some rights which pedestrians should take into consideration—that all blame for accidents does not center in the man in the car.

If the driver of a motor vehicle runs a pedestrian down he can be haled into court and forced to explain, but the person who indulges in the somewhat rural business of jay walking goes on his way in justified anger, as he believes, or makes information against the driver who chanced to bump him. Finding the person who gets knocked down through his own carelessness would at least be an interesting experiment.

Canine Sagacity

"I had a bird-dog once," the old sportsman observed, "that was really noteworthy. He never failed on a point. One day I had him out for exercise in the park, when suddenly he pointed, rigid as a stone. I was puzzled. There was no possibility of game. The grass was close clipped. The dog had his nose straight on a man seated on a bench. I thought the man might have a live bird in his pocket, but no; the man was in his shirt sleeves. Then I had an idea. 'Pardon me, sir,' I said, 'but would you mind telling me your name?' 'No, I don't mind,' he replied. 'It's Partridge.'"—New York Evening Post.

Let Go

Practice the art of letting go of unpleasant thoughts. If you pick up a hot poker, no argument is needed to induce you to drop it. There are hot thoughts that blister and burn and sear the soul, yet people only tighten their mental grip and refuse to let them go. The longer they are held the deeper they burn.—Rev. F. H. Fox in St. Andrew's Cross.

Recruiting Sergeant: "Th' greatest life in the world—travel, good pay, lots o' fun, education—what d'ya say, young feller? Sign up today!" Prospective Recruit: "Well—I'd like to, but I wanna think it over a bit. I'd better come back in a couple o' days an' see you again." Recruiting Sergeant: "Better make up yer mind now! I expect my discharge any day now!"—Judge.

American Ideals

Senator Spencer, of Missouri, in response to a request from a prominent woman's club in St. Louis, as to his conception of the creed of America and what it meant to him, replied:

"To me the creed of America is, a country founded upon absolute justice to all, with the door of opportunity open wide and with facilities for general education everywhere available; a place where the fullest liberty prevails and where every man and woman is equal before the law."

"This creed means to me, a thrilling pride in the glorious history which has established it and loyalty to the principles which it declares; and a determination, by every means in my power, that it shall be transmitted to the next generation untainted and unweakened."

Wished to Know Worst

An Eastern business man, visiting a town in the West for a brief period, found himself obliged to submit to the tender mercies of the local barber. The experience was anything but satisfactory—he was nicked, gashed, and generally mishandled. At the completion of the job the Easterner sat up in the chair and demanded a drink of water.

"You are not going to faint, I hope, sir," said the barber, noticing his customer's distressed expression. "No," was the answer; "I merely want to ascertain whether my face will hold water."—Harper's Magazine.

The teacher was instructing his class in a very interesting course of experiments, and noticing some of the pupils not paying proper attention, he said: "Now, you know I cannot attend to you and my experiments at the same time. If anything goes wrong, the whole laboratory, and we with it, will be blown into the air. Come a little closer, boys, so that you may follow me better."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Boothby gave a miscellaneous shower at her residence for Mrs. Robert Mac Adam. The afternoon was spent in visiting and the gifts were distributed in a very unique manner. Those who were present were Mesdames John Robert White, H. G. Hosford and Ed Wolbach; Misses Hazel and Elsie Tyler, Beulah Varnar and little Betty Boothby.

W. R. C. Meeting

N. P. Banks Post, W. R. C., held a meeting last Friday afternoon at which time twenty new members were initiated. Fifty certificates were issued for special rates to the national convention. The department president, Mrs. Ella M. French, of Los Angeles, and the department inspector, Alfred G. Daul, of San Francisco, were also present at this meeting. This is Mr. Daul's annual visit at which time he inspects every corps in the department. He complimented the women of N. P. Banks corps on the fine condition shown. Mrs. M. Milligan, of 113 East Park avenue, entertained Mrs. French and Mr. Daul at a luncheon at her home, before the meeting. Others invited were Mrs. F. Houdyshel and Mrs. Flora Pixley, also Mrs. Ella Sherer of Santa Monica.

Recent moves, most of them because of property they occupied being sold or leases expired are the following: De Leons from 241 Howard, rear, to 319 Howard; Carlsons from 353 West Elk avenue to 118 Franklin Court; Mrs. J. R. Ramsay and family from 358 West Harvard to 1541 East Seventh street, Los Angeles; Eastmans from 409 West Harvard to Fallbrook; A. A. Sommer from 611 West Elk avenue to 409 West Harvard.

Mrs. Ethel Dorchester Walsh, who came to Hollywood from New York a month ago with her daughter and son, with the intention of locating there and later bought Arthur G. Lindley's home at 342 North Kenwood, will move in this week. Her son will be a senior in the Glendale High School. Mr. Lindley is rooming for the present at 123 South Belmont and Miss Zelma at 115 South Central avenue. Both work in Los Angeles. Mrs. Sarah F. Lindley, mother of A. G., for whom she has kept house for several years, will spend the winter in Hollywood with another son and with Glendale relatives and friends. She expects to go back East in the spring to spend a few months. Mr. Lindley's son, Francis S., is attending the Los Angeles Military Academy.

Against Annexation

It is to be regretted that again for the fifth or sixth time a little crowd who have an axe of their own to grind are attempting to force annexation to Glendale on the property owners of Casa Verdugo.

There are rumors of the circulation of a petition and that the same methods of secrecy and misrepresentation are in effect to secure names to this petition that have been used heretofore.

But as I have just been advised that my name is being surreptitiously used as being in favor of said annexation, I wish to state here that I most emphatically announce my position as against any such annexation and I ALWAYS HAVE BEEN AGAINST IT.

Because of this false statement of my opinion, I have been in personal touch by phone with property owners, representing some sixty-five or more votes, who assure me of their intention to fight this movement harder than ever.

MRS. W. B. KELLY.

Central Avenue M. E.

The Central avenue Methodist Episcopal church is planning a strenuous year's work in church, Sunday school and Epworth League. A new pastor is being called to fill the pulpit, Rev. Marion Smith, the regular supply, having moved to Boston during the summer to take up other work. Preliminary to the coming of the new man the church organization is making great strides in getting ready for a bigger work to keep pace with the wonderful growth of the neighborhood. One feature is unique. It is the Young Men's Club called the 4 C Club. They took possession of the social hall on Thursday night and are planning to offset the cry for a pool hall which is now bothering the Glendale folk. Athletics and social activities will find a large place in their program. Their first effort is a free musicale to be held in church. This is to be followed by other socials at intervals.

H. S. Latham, wife, son and daughter, who have been living at 330 West Broadway, in a new home they bought of A. G. Larson a few months ago, are moving today to 1817 Orchid street, Hollywood, having bought property there. Mr. Latham will work in one of the Hollywood banks. The home here was bought by W. W. Stephenson of Hollywood, who, with his wife and mother, is moving in today as the Lathams move out.

HORIZON CLEARING

In the conservative judgment of many leaders in the commercial and industrial world, we are well through the post-war world crisis. Farseeing financial authorities believe that a dangerous period has been left in the rear and that many recent signs point to a stabilization which will make for more satisfactory conditions and less of pessimism and uncertainty.

Under the operation of the federal reserve system we are likely to escape any of the sharp panicky developments which prevailed in 1907 and one of the leading industrial analysts says: "With our confidence in the future, the process of discounting easier money and more favorable industrial conditions already perceptible on a smaller scale will reach greater proportions as we near the end of the year."

With coal bins yawning and the children just fitted out for school, the average voter will not hurry to make his contribution to the campaign fund of his favorite party.

deputy auditor for the Post Office Department and removed with his family to Washington, D. C. This latter office he held until 1900, when he was sent to Havana, Cuba, as assistant auditor for Cuba, with a special commission to re-audit the accounts of the Cuban postal service
and investigate the postal frauds
there. He returned to Washington early in the year 1901 and almost immediately was appointed by then President Theodore Roosevelt as
auditor for the Philippine Islands,
being the first civil officer of the islands after the military occupation of the Philippines. He held this position until 1907 with the exception of one year when on special appointment he served as member and chairman of the Philippine Exposition Board at the World's Fair held in St. Louis during 1904.

In the year 1907 he resigned as
auditor for the Philippine Islands
and was immediately appointed third assistant Post Master General of the United States, and again moved to Washington. His health failed him in 1910, and he went to New Mexico and remained a year. Unwilling to endure the northern winters he decided to remain in the Southwest, and was offered the appointment of territorial governor of the Territory of New Mexico. Having once lost his health through arduous service
for his country, he declined the appointment and sought to preserve his health. Later he did accept an appointment as superintendent of the Hopi and Navajo Indian Reservations in New Mexico and the Apache Reservation in Arizona, remaining in the Indian service five years. In 1915 he resigned from governmental service and moved to Los Angeles, in retirement. In the same year his wife, Anna Sweetser Lawshe, passed away, leaving her husband and three children, H. D. Lawshe, now of Sorrento, Idaho; James S. Lawshe of Los Angeles, and Marie Lawshe Evans. Mr. Lawshe and his daughter, Marie, moved to Glendale in 1916,
and maintained their home there.
During the year 1917 Mr. Lawshe married Miss Delight Sweetser, a sister of his first wife, and they resided in Glendale until 1919, when they purchased property in Arcadia,
and built their home, "Onabasha."

Mr. Lawshe's health began to fail in April, 1920, and he never regained his full vigor and strength.
So long as his health permitted he was active in national and community affairs. He was manager of the Red Cross war work in Glendale during the World War. He was the author of various reports on Philippine finances and United States postal affairs. He was an active working member of the Christian Church.

next week, the first one to take place
Monday evening.

Mr. Thomas, member of the Reception Committee, reported that 100 badges had been obtained for the Reception Committee at a cost of $17, and on motion it was voted to instruct the committee to procure several thousand paper badges containing the words "I Live in Glendale. Ask Me." These badges are to be worn by the residents of Glendale.

The question of the visitors getting accommodations for meals is one that may be embarrassing, and the suggestion was made at last evening's meeting that all restaurants,
lunch counters, and cafes in Glendale be requested to arrange for a full force of service next week. If the strangers who come to our midst
are provided good sleeping quarters
and are well fed, they will go away from Glendale with good reports, and the only way that our city may be able to do all of this is by united effort.

W. C. T. U. Protest

Members of the W. C. T. U. request the publication of the protest
which they presented to the Board of Trustees last Friday evening. This communication was signed by officers of the Union, Mrs. Ruby J.
Smart, president; Mrs. Jennie Mottern, corresponding secretary; Mrs.
Louise Morton, recording secretary; Mrs. Nannie Palmer, treasurer, and read as follows:
"To the City Council of Glendale:
"Believing that pool rooms are pernicious and demoralizing in their influence on those who patronize
them, that they also create a passion for gambling and being interested in the welfare of the youth of our city, we, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Glendale, numbering 150 members, wives, mothers and sisters of men and boys, respectfully and earnestly protest against the modification of the city ordinance forbidding the establishment of such places of amusement within the city and we urgently protest against permitting such pool rooms to be established in the city of Glendale."

"You'll get run in," said the pedestrian to the cyclist, "if you ride without a light."

"You'll get run into," responded
the rider as he knocked the other down.

"You'll get run in, too!" said the policeman, as he stepped forward and seized the cyclist.

Just then another scorching came along without a light, so the policeman was run into, too, and had to run in two.—Tit-Bits.

A colored veteran just back from the other side when questioned about an iron cross he was wearing, explained:

"Boss, it was a extra decoration.
De Kaiser hisself sent it to me by special messenger what dropt jus'
befo' he give it to me."—New York Globe.

Mrs. Morningcall: "When you spoke of your maid as an old family retainer I expected to see an older person. How long has she been in your family?"
Mrs. Rooral: "Ever since last Wednesday."—London Opinion.

Friend: "A bull, then, is an optimist and a bear is a pessimist." Operator: "Well, not exactly. I should call a bear an optimistic pessimist. He thinks things are going to smash and hopes to make money
if they do."—Boston Transcript.

Natural Daylight Saving

By L. R. BLANCHARD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—If the United States congress regards sports at all seriously, it will hearken to a recommendation from Finland.

Finland has natural daylight saving. As a result the Finns with an almost insignificant population to draw from, romped away with second honors in the track and field events of the Olympics this year.

E. W. Broman, a Chicago Finn, on learning that his countrymen had taken 105 points in the Olympics against the 92 of the English and 35 of the French, said:

"Finland is a land of athletes.
Boys and girls from infancy delight
in outdoor sports because of the long days. It is daylight from 1 in the morning until 11 at night.

"When I was a boy I never got to bed until 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning. I was having too good a time playing outdoors.

"Most of the best athletes come from the cities because the universities are located there. Students are obliged to take part in daily calis-thenics, a relic of the days when Finland was Swedish. The Finns have hundreds of athletic clubs and enjoy wonderful health and vitality because of the long hours of exercise
in sunlight hours.

"Do you find poultry keeping pays?" "Well, no; I can't say that it pays me, but I think that it pays
my boy, Joe." "How's that?" "Well, you see, I bought him the fowls. I have to pay for their keep and buy
the eggs from him, and he eats
them."—Illustrated Bits.

The King: "I must have gold.
Cough up!"

Prime Minister: "But, your Majesty, the coffers are empty."—Michigan Gargoyle.

CONGRESSWOMEN

Since the election to the house of Miss Jeanette Rankin of Montana, although women have not been successful in candidacies for house or senate, it has been felt that it was only a question of time until Miss Rankin's precedent was followed in both branches of congress. With the ratification of the suffrage amendment and the sentiment developed, this will probably be hastened now. This year there are seven women candidates for congress, two for the senate and five for the house.

It is unlikely that either of the senatorial candidates will pull through, one from New York being the nominee of the Labor party, and the other from Nevada, Miss Anne Martin, who is seeking the Republican nomination, being handicapped by her party record. Defeated at the primary in a former effort, she ran as an independent,
thus helping to defeat the Republican nominee.

The candidates for the house seem to stand better chances. Mrs.
Helen Statler of Michigan expects to win the Republican nomination in the Third district. Dr. Esther Lovejoy is a Democratic candidate in Oregon, Miss Alice Robertson a Republican aspirant in Oklahoma, and Mrs. Aletha Wheeler a Republican candidate in the Grand Rapids, Michigan, district. The fifth is Mrs. Weeks, who has won the nomination of the Non-Partisan League in a Nebraska district.

No doubt by 1922 there will be women candidates for congress by the dozen and whether any of those running this year pulls through, it is reasonably certain women will find seats in the house two years from now. That, at least, has been the effect of enfranchisement in other countries and women are not likely to be less aggressive here.

CANNOT LEARN

The denseness of the men who led Germany to her defeat seems to be impenetrable to modern democratic ideas. They refuse to learn from events. Admiral von Tirpitz, after long silence breaks out in this strain: "The republic allowed enemies of the German people to disarm the nation, and with the disappearance of the army the fundamental reason for the existence of the German state is destroyed."

This is the summing up of a diatribe against the Ebert government, which he declares has ruined Germany. It seems not to have occurred to von Tirpitz's foggy mind that the ruin that befell Germany was due to himself and others like him who constituted the dominant element.

In accusing the republican authorities, if they may be thus classified, of permitting the allies to disarm Germany he seems to have overlooked the fact that such a step may not have been their choice.
The vanquished have not much option. The present German government may not be a great success but it at least is not entirely responsible for the conditions with which it has to deal. Germany may be doomed, as the former navy head says, but it will be due to the short-sightedness in which von Tirpitz was no small part, if the calamitous conditions predicted come to pass.

If the army was the only "fundamental reason for the existence of the German state" the nation has less reason for its being than was credited to it. If the population that pursued the industries of peace were not the "fundamental reason" for the existence of Germany as a nation then it were time it were doomed, because, if its army were its only reason for existence, it would continue to be a menace to all those peoples of the earth who prefer peace and justice to the clank of arms of soldiers led by swashbuckling officers.

Germany may in time become democratic, but if so it is evident it must reach that state in opposition to the old ruling class of which von Tirpitz seems to be a representative. The junkers are too dense to learn the lesson of the times.
